HEND EL FALAFLY

Realism is what worries me, and that I want to express,

At first, I was able to express the Egyptian society to which I belong and the evidence of its presence in the place. The pencils used are basic materials, that simply express my society and their personal relationships, My work is mixed with strong realism which have a symbolic and very expressive meaning at the same time.

SENSES & SENSIBILITIES

HEND AL FALAFLY explores through her most recent and intimate works "Senses and Sensibilities" the different emotions expressed by the women, usually which are part of her daily life. She strongly uses the body language to understand the meaningful silence carried over their experiences and different stories. Hend reflects all its semantic in the facial expressions and movements of the hands, the feet, the look, the clothes, and reveals then the tension, and the emotions repressed. Although the silence of the lips, the hands become the voice, the eyes, which transcends all the languages, speak in a glance, an unspeakable tongue, and the body denies lies and hypocrisies. "The pencils are my instruments, my tools, simply to express the intimate relationships of my social circle and, my work is mixed with strong realism which contains symbolism with very expressive meaning in the same time" she says. A different Realism inspires her and have great impact in her works, which breaths from an inherent activity revealed through an incredible movement and light. No secret can be kept hidden, all is revealed.
